Invoices and Carfax together give 34 dated odometer readings that rise steadily from 81 miles in 1992 to 32,120 today. Carfax finds no rollback indication. The car averaged about 1,900 miles a year to 2002 and about 680 a year from 2002 to 2025. It covered under 200 miles between September 2019 and May 2025, suggesting it was largely stored before being recommissioned in 2025. Summer 2025 readings vary across shops by under 50 miles, which coincides with the speedometer being sent out for repair in November 2025.
